Under The Stars

We take Movie Nights to a whole new level.

We do movie nights like no other. With 5:1 surround sound, a huge 24' x 16' screen and High Def projectors, your audience will be amazed that you were able to bring the experience of an indoor theater to them in a relaxed, under the stars environment.

Corporate presentations are taken to another level as well!

installations

In the last decade there have been vast technological advances in audio science with computerized, digital processing and equally remarkable improvements in public address and intercom systems. As one of this area's industry leaders, The Sound Company takes pride in bringing you the very latest advances, installed by highly skilled, trained certified technicians, versed in the latest techniques.

And to ensure that your facility gets the equipment that is perfect for your room, we take the guesswork out of the equation by using our Computer Analysis Program. It will determine which speakers are best suited, and where they should be placed.

If your audio or lighting system is more than a few years old, we can dramatically improve its quality! Whether you are involved with building a new facility or wanting to improve an existing one – contact The Sound Company for a competitive bid on your new Audio, Lighting and Video Systems.

video

Recently IMEG has become a staple in any large concert setting. Now regardless of how large of an audience, everyone will have the best seat in the house.

From using two large screens positioned along side the stage, or when using satellite screens placed throughout a hall in a corporate setting, video is an integral part of a successful program.

Video will allow you to sell more ad space by running commercials from your sponsors, as well as promoting upcoming events. Just another way to help fund your event.

audio

Today's audience is well educated in audio technology and won't settle for anything less than the highest level of quality.

In today's new digital age, technology has changed everything, especially in the field of audio.

Our systems are the most up to date and technically advanced systems available today and range from medium sized VRX line arrays commonly used on our Corporate programs to the large format Vertec systems used on all major tours, including the one we used for Pulse Fest where they drew 70,000 people.

An area of live entertainment that is often overlooked is stage lighting. We know that the perfect lighting sets the mood and the tone of your event, and we create that positive impression with the most modern, technologically advanced lighting systems and video projection screen systems available today.

From the industry standard Par can lighting to the newest Intelligent fixtures that add movement and depth, nothing draws more attention than a well designed light show.

We stock over 140K of Par lighting, Intelligents, Specials, Follow Spots, DJ lighting and more.

staging

The stage is the first thing your audience will see. Ensure a proper first impression with a visually stimulating stage.

We offer a variety of staging, from an impressive 48' x 40' platform with a roof and lighting trusses, to an intimate stage for smaller venues.

We have staged events for audiences numbered in the tens of thousands as well as in the hundreds – nothing is too large or too small.

Indoor or out, the easiest way to elevate your event above the others, is by improving the visual aspect of adding a quality stage. Let us help you select the stage that will best suit your event.
